

SUPPLEMENT
TO THE
1988-1989
MIRROR

This year's FAIR was held indoors due to the weather. (Supposedly, it was raining. I personally did not notice any rain even though I was outside most of the day.) However, the FAIR was a great success anyway. It was loud, obnoxious, and noisy, obviously a great success. Everyone had a great time.

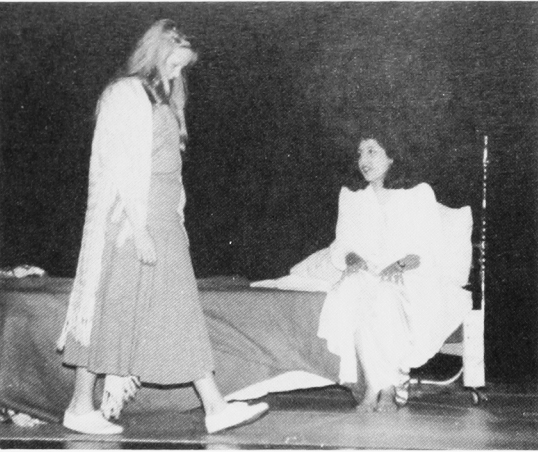

OPERA

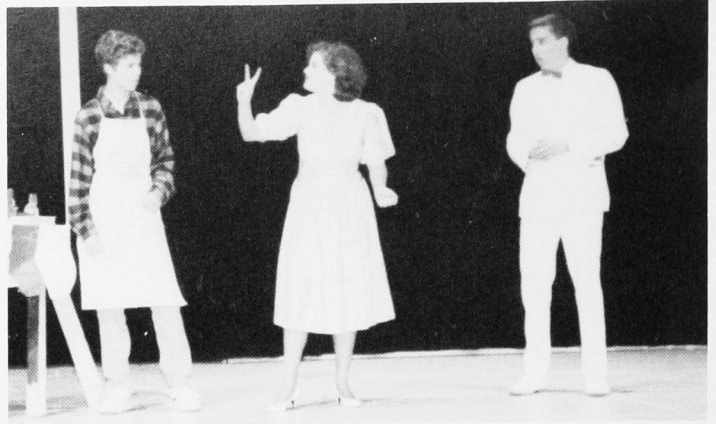

This years opera "The Mikado" was a smashing success. The brilliant directing and choreography were reflected by a stunning cast. The overall desired feeling was achieved by first-time-North Shore-Gillbert & Sullivan director Molly "Energy Woman" Burns. But, at any rate I found it a pleasant blend of humor and pathos (that was for you Thom), and gave it a must see, four star, big thumbs up. Oh...and by the way, the Opera had a 50's theme.

The Middle School Show

"Relax, you're a guest here at the Blake Hotel. Relax, you're a guest at the Blake, it's swell," is a quote from this year's Middle School Show, At the Blake. The play was the first one done by Ms. Burns and Mr. Fry. It was Mr. Wallenburg's second one. There were really no "old hands" doing this show, so considering that, it was a success.

The 1989-90 MIRROR STAFF!

This year's yearbook staff has a dual job. As well as being the Mirror staff for the '89-90, they also double as a rock band on weekends in the Vicious Death Dance Club. The band's name is Sensual Evy and the Sultans of Sodomy. The lead singer of this new musical sensation is the infamous and extremely romantic, our own Lay-Out Editor, Keary Rosen. Banging away on drums is Beth "Destucto" Cavanaugh, who is also the Editor-In-Chief. The band has two lead guitarists, the Photography Editors, Rob "C-3PO" McClung and Josh "Chewbacca" Quinn. Playing bass is the Business Editor, Amy "Bubba" Jacobs. Randall Maconachy, our Dick Hall impersonator and one of the two Copy Editors, wails away on an instrument of his own invention, the nuclear clarinet. This instrumt does actually contain an unstable nuclear device which has been known to wipe out small mid-western towns. And last, but most asuredly not least, is the bands pivital pinical of talent Todd "Specter Man" Rohlen. He has so much talent in fact that under FDA health regulation he has been restricted to playing only the ellectric cowbell (in order to avoid rioting thousand of sweaty drugged out fans).

LOWER SCHOOL CLOSING & BBQ

Lower School closing was as heart felt as ever, with the LS students saying good-by and giving their best wishes to the graduating class. There was a speech by almost lifer Peter Geyer dealing with vivid memories which had stuck in his mind as the high lights of his lower and middle school days. In a way it was a sort of ushering out of the prepared (seniors) and an ushering in of the new and innocent,...and then they went and had a BBQ.

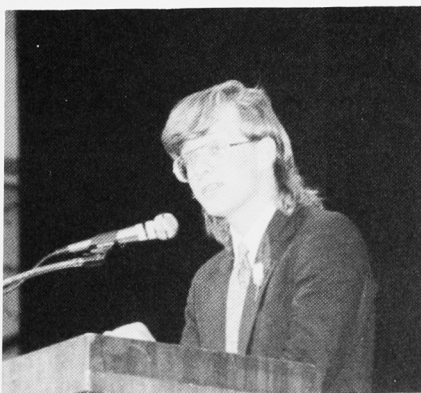

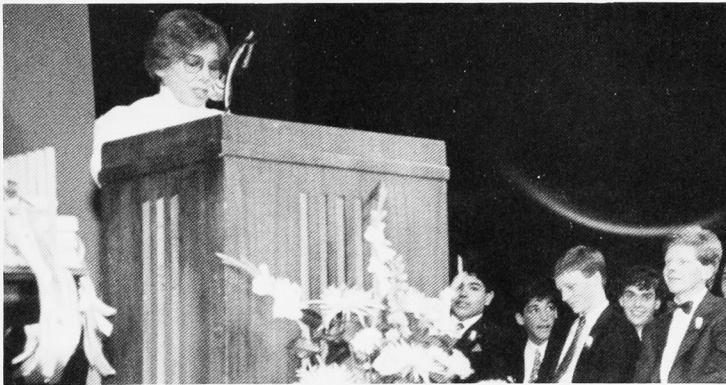

COMMENCEMENT

This years commencement was a stunning succses involving many moving speaches by alumnus, faculty, and students. But there was more than just the lucid speaches, there was the knowledge that these graduating individuals were moving on to (GASP) college and then...(EVEN BIGGER GASP) REALITY. There was also a sort of sadness prevading through the magestic structure of the Diller Street Theater. Because through all the joy of succsess in graduation there is also the finality of it. I remmember gazing upon the stage studying the seniors faces and thinking that I would only see them once or twice again when they returned as visiting alumni. But then, I realized with a grin that even though they shall no longer walk North Shore's halls as studentsthey will remain as much a part of the school as Mr. Hall.
